Tik-Tik was three years old in October.
Almost grown up.
He listened hard when the adult males
sang their sunset song:

"Hear me! Hear me!
HEAR ME TOO-OO-OO-OO!"

Next day Tik-Tik started on a big adventure.

He went out into the spiny forest toward Feather-Fur's troop all on his own. For the first time in his life there was nobody to warn him of danger, going...

WAK WAK WAK at dogs

A footstep rustled in the leaf litter.
Tik-Tik shot up a spiky octopus tree.

"Tikitike! Beautiful creature!
Amazing social life!
This book describes it very cheerfully
for school children.

"These beautifully written and illustrated stories help Malagasy children read in their own language. Madagascar's rich biodiversity shines through the text and watercolours to increase children's pride in their unique country and their respect for the environment around them.
